

Become an Enterprise Adviser

An EA is a volunteer from business who partners with a school or college. You will use your skills, business experience and networks to support the school develop their careers offer for students.

Why become an EA?

- Develop your own skills in project management, strategy and communication
- Build your own professional network
- Gain experience of the school environment and students with additional needs
- Be the link between your business or your employer and young people

What does Two Bridges School need?

- Someone who can deliver careers talks to students and teachers or project work in subject areas
- Someone who can bring to life their industry and showcase the opportunities available to Two Bridges Students
- Someone with good networks who can engage other businesses or individuals to offer similar input
- Someone in reach of Tunbridge Wells to meet with the careers team and wider stakeholders

What are the commitments?

- Happy to join the community of EA's in the Kent and Medway Careers Hub and nationally through the Careers and Enterprise Company as a volunteer for a minimum of a year
- Undertake an enhanced DBS check - at the cost of the Hub
- Attendance at meetings with the school and the schools' Enterprise Coordinator on a half termly basis
- Take part in Hub networking and ad-hoc EA training throughout the year
